Santa Clara - Ivins Public Safety

April is National Sexual Assault Awareness Month; Victims and witnesses of crime have fundamental rights in the criminal justice process to ensure that all victims are treated with dignity, respect, courtesy, and sensitivity. Victims also have the right to privacy. Utah legislation and the State Constitution protect and honor victims' rights. You can locate these rights in the Utah Constitution, Article 28, and in the Utah Criminal Code at 77-37, 77-38 and 77-38b. There are specific victims' rights for survivors of sexual violence.

The Santa Clara-Ivins Public Safety Victim Advocate Services aim to minimize the traumatic impact of crime. Our mission is to provide timely support, gentle guidance, helpful resources, and vital information that promotes healing and progress for victims of crime, witnesses, and their families.

Visit the link below for the Law Enforcement website, where you can select the "Victims of Sexual Assault" link to learn what to expect when reporting a crime for the first time, as well as available resources.
